THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1912.
Entered at the Greenville, Ky., postoffice as second-class matter.

NEW YORK CITY OWNS $1,000,000 worth of idle, unimproved land. This shows that humanity occasionally suffers from abject indifference.

More than 100 of New York's chautauques have criminal records, a fact easily believed by many a mere pedestrian.

A RATHER SEVERE CRISIS of the Gatun dam, recently made before a joint meeting of certain western engineering societies, was based on the fact that the rock fills forming the up and down stream levees are so heavy, that they are sure to compress the underlying natural ground and cause dangerous settlement of the dam. But what if it does settle? The foundation material will be so much the more compacted and so much the more proof against seepage. Settlements occurring during construction can always be compensated by fresh filling, and the process will be carried on until the dam has been raised to its full height.

At St. Joseph, Mo., a woman tried to enlist in the regular army. So eager was she to grab a gun and demonstrate her patriotism that she put on men's garments and endeavored to enlist. The recruiting officer, needless to say, and indeed, these are more often than not the result of an unwise forcing of the child's special aptitudes without regard to its physical and mental needs. The training of a precocious child calls for care, wisdom and common sense. The child should have a well balanced teacher, and should not be hurried. On the contrary, if the slightest injury is being done to the child's mental functions, other than the one specially endowed, or to its physical health, it should be gently restrained.

Exercise is needed to develop any organ or faculty. But the exercise of one set of muscles or faculties exclusively leads to one-sidedness. Especially those who are by nature one-sided should develop the other side. When development is properly regulated, when the mental faculties and physical health are both carefully looked after, precocity is not a misfortune, but a great good fortune. The precocious child so safeguarded may prove to be that most precious gift to humanity—another genius.

Fire Losses Here and in Germany.

An explanation of the fact that fire losses in the United States are about ten times what they are in Germany, can be found in the much greater responsibility for fires fixed upon tenants, landlords and owners abroad. An American gentleman, temporarily living in Berlin, was awakened by smoke and found that a fire originating in a room over him was eating its way through the ceiling of his dining room. The blaze was extinguished with chemical apparatus without any water damage and without needless destruction of walls and furniture. Meantime a careful investigation was made by officials, and the next morning the man who turned in the alarm was sent for and taken before a fire marshal with inquisitorial powers. The examination of all involved showed that the fire started in a hot coal which had dropped from a laundry stove in the attic and rolled upon an unprotected wooden floor. The tenant proved that the stove was an appointment of the building, provided by the landlord and that it was neither his duty nor his privilege to change it. The landlord proved that in his recently purchased building under the usual guarantee that all laws and ordinances had been complied with in construction and appointment, that this stove had not been changed, and that his attention had not been called to any condition involving a fire risk. The landlord from whom the owner purchased was then called and had to admit that he was responsible for the setting of the stove as the police had found it, and that he had violated the law in neglecting to provide a suitable metallic hearth of the required kind and dimensions between it and the floor. This responsibility was brought home to him by the assessment against him of the damage to the furniture and property of the tenants, together with the estimated cost to the city of responding to the alarm and extinguishing the fire, rounded out by an exemplary fine of 500 marks as a reminder that German laws are intended to be observed. The landlord was not required to pay for the damage to the building, it being held that while the owner had not committed the violation of law which caused the fire, he had been neglectful in not discovering and correcting it, and for that reason should pay his own repairs. He was informed that only the fact that he had owned the building for a short time saved him from a fine in addition. Such laws and such enforcement explain the per capita fire loss of 30 cents in Berlin and $3 in Chicago. American "freedom" is not yet ready for such restrictions. But it pays for its independence in a fire waste of a quarter of a billion dollars a year, to say nothing of the loss of life, and the high taxes made necessary by the existence of such conditions. If the person responsible for fire in this country were made to defray the cost of extinguishing the blaze, the criminal carelessness which now exists would be greatly reduced, as would the taxes necessary for the support of the fire departments.

blood pressure due to trouble of the heart or the kidneys.

Any disease that interferes with the return of the blood from the head into the body may cause a passive congestion of the meninges lining of the nose sometimes seen in cases of valvular disease, or in chronic bronchitis. Gouty or tumors of the neck act mechanically to produce the same result. In stout, full blooded adults an attack of nosebleed is often preceded by a severe headache or other symptoms indicating too much blood in the head, in which cases the hemorrhage will relieve the headache. The same thing is often true in cases of tumors or nerves in the head. If the hemorrhage is severe, the same symptoms, headache and tinnitus, may follow as a result of the anemia.

A person no longer young who has recurring attacks of nosebleed for which he can find no local or mechanical cause should have a physician make a thorough examination of him, to see that nothing ails his kidneys, heart lungs or liver.

Precocious Children.

The belief is general that precocity in a child is ominous, that it is likely to mean future injury both to mind and body. Precocity, it is often said, is found only in the neurotic and in those of unbalanced mind or weak body. It is called abnormal, and declared a misfortune.

Whether the abnormal is always undesirable depends on the view you take of humanity in general. If the inhabitants of our world are the best possible beings then anything exceptional must certainly be bad. But many would deny the premise. These people are not pessimists; they think human beings very good, but they believe there is still room for improvement in them. Improvement is effected in large measure by the genius and the near-genius, men of extraordinary gifts whose labors raise humanity to a higher plane.

A precocious child is one born with some faculties capable of extraordinary development. It may be neurotic or even, in certain respects, mentally deficient—but it is not necessarily so; and indeed, these are more often than not the result of an unwise forcing of the child's special aptitudes without regard to its physical and mental needs. The training of a precocious child calls for care, wisdom and common sense. The child should have a well balanced teacher, and should not be hurried. On the contrary, if the slightest injury is being done to the child's mental functions, other than the one specially endowed, or to its physical health, it should be gently restrained.

Exercise is needed to develop any organ or faculty. But the exercise of one set of muscles or faculties exclusively leads to one-sidedness. Especially those who are by nature one-sided should develop the other side. When development is properly regulated, when the mental faculties and physical health are both carefully looked after, precocity is not a misfortune, but a great good fortune. It DOES NOT PAY TO BUY CHEAP BACON OR HAM

Probably you know that already from sad experience. If not, take our word for it that there is a big difference in quality.

The best is sweet, mild and fine grained. It fries beautifully, creates an appetite and then satisfies it. The cheaper kinds—well they don't do these things and you are not pleased.

We have some very fine bacon and ham. We are proud of its quality, and while it costs a cent or two more per pound than some you can get in Greenville, we know that after trying it you will agree with us it is well worth the difference in price.

We slice it to your order, thick or thin, with every slice uniform. Also have some better than usual dried beef and boiled ham.

Have you tried Crisco instead of lard or butter for frying?

A BALLAD OF SUICIDE.

The gallows in my garden, people say,
Is new and neat and adequately tall;
I tie the noose on in a knowing way,
As one that knows his neck for a ball;
But just as all the neighbors—on the wall
Are drawing a long breath to shout
"Hurrah!"
The strangest whim has seized me—
After all
I think I will not hang myself today.
Tomorrow is the time I get my pay—
My uncle's sword is hanging in the hall—
I see a little cloud all pink and gray—
Perhaps the rector's mother will not call—
I fancy that I heard from Mr. Galt
That mushrooms could be cooked
Another way
I never read the works of Juvenal
I think I will not hang myself today.
The world will have another washing day.
The deacons deny the penitents' path.
And H. G. Wells has found that children play.
And Bernard Shaw discovered that they squall.
Rationalists are growing rational—
And through thick woods one finds a stream at last.
So secret that the very sky seems small—
I think I will not hang myself today.
ENVOI.
Prince, I can hear the tramp of German.
The tumbrels tolling up the terrible way.
Even today your royal head may fall.
I think I will not hang myself today.
G. K. Chesterton.

There is still room for argument between the ground-hog advocates and the antis.

Greenville has more vacant business houses now than it has had for many years. It is not likely that this condition will long obtain, as there are calls for some of the places, and all will likely be occupied soon.

Mr. L. Hummel, who has been in business here about three years, has moved with his family to Paducah, where he will engage in business along the same lines as here.

The effort to build a new church that is being made by the members of the First Baptist church is receiving the support of many persons, and it is likely that a building will be erected here. At present Sunday-school and church services are being held in the V. M. C. A. auditorium.

The I. C. has been doing an extraordinary heavy passenger business for the past week, many of the limited trains from the South being run in two sections. Persons returning from Mardi Gras and winter resorts have caused the extra demands.

The carload of horses and mules bought on the St. Louis market last week by Messrs. Sweeney, Moore & Boggess, are quite above the average, and among the best shipped in here. Large crowds have been drawn to the Sweeney livery barn to see the stock. Some sales have already been made, and the demand should be good.

Notice to File Claims.

All persons having claims against the estate of W. S. Fox, deceased, are hereby notified to present same to me at Paradise, Ky., properly proven, on or before April 1, 1912, or they will be forever barred.

This Feb. 27, 1912.

Mrs. M. D. Fox,
Adm'x. W. S. Fox, Dec'd.

There has been unusual activity in enrollment at the Sunday-schools of all churches in town since the first of the year. House to house canvasses have been made, and many new attendants have been thus secured. There are comparatively few people who are not now in some school.

The value of farm land in Kentucky averages $21.83 per acre. These figures are based on the 1910 census, and shows an increase of $8.59 per acre since 1900. The number of farms in the state has increased 24,518, and the acreage has decreased from 93 to 86 per farm. These are all hopeful indications of Kentucky's agricultural development, which will soon rank well up in this line.

Powderly will soon be the metropolis of the county, if it maintains its rate of increase established Monday, when four children were born in 24 hours.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The bible class for men and young men which meets on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock is still growing in number and interest. No not fail to be present next Sunday afternoon.

On next Sunday afternoon the Junior class will make a study of the life of Moses. Every boy is trying to find out something about Moses that the rest do not know. Every boy should come prepared to tell something about this great man.

In the scripture finding contest which closed last Sunday, Spencer Pannell was first with 140 to his credit; Joe Morgan second, with 122 and Mallory Pittman third, with 44.

Do not forget to come in and use the free library. Some donations in the way of books have been made to the Association library. We appreciate and are thankful for the same. Any contribution either of books or money to the library will be worth while.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. entertained the married men of the Association and their wives at a delightful Geo. Washington party on the 22nd. Games and music were the features of the evening, which were enjoyed by all.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. meets next Tuesday at 5 p. m., at the Association building.

The Presbyterians met their first defeat last week at the hands of the Methodists by a score of 20 to 13. The standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pt. ct.
Pres.	5	1	750
Meth.	2	2	500
Bapt.	1	3	250

Each team has two more games to play. The Methodists and Baptists play this week.

On Friday the first team plays its closing game at Owensboro. There is quite a delegation going up from Greenville to see the game. It will no doubt be worth the trip, as the two teams are very evenly matched and the contest will be a close one.

Postal Savings Bank Open.

Postmaster Mill also a banker, and has been backing in the world, for Uncle Sam stands behind every deposit made in the Postal Savings Bank, which was opened for business last Saturday. There have been several deposits made, none for large sums, however. An account can be started for a dime, by purchasing a card, but no certificate of deposit will be issued for less than a dollar. Money can be withdrawn at any time, or will draw 2 per cent. interest, if placed on time deposit. This new system of banking is attracting wide attention, and all over the county the amount of business done has been surprisingly gratifying.

Merchants' Association Planned.

Local merchants are planning the organization of a credit bureau, for the mutual protection of their interests. It will be a credit clearing house, insuring the extension of credit to people who are worthy, and placing the dead beats where they belong. Competition is now so strong that merchants are often too eager to make sales, and do not make proper investigation as to the paying qualities of a proposed customer who desires credit. These accounts are a heavy drain on the time of merchants, as the time required in collections is considerable, and many of the accounts are lost, of course. By a concentration of methods, much time and loss can be eliminated, and business will be done on proper principles.

Death of Mrs. M. H. Marshall.

Mrs. M. H. Marshall died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Helisley, at Central City, last Thursday, after an illness of some length from complications of age. Funeral services were conducted there at 9 o'clock Friday morning, and the body was brought here for interment in Evergreen cemetery where at 1 p. m. it was laid to rest beside that of her husband, who died about 20 years ago. Mrs. Marshall had lived here most of her life, and had many friends among old acquaintances. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church, and a woman of many fine qualities. For many years she had suffered the affliction of blindness, but she bore this burden without complaint, or the loss of her cheerfulness and kindness.

Let Mc fix your clock.

HOARD'S DAIRYMAN.

A Journal Devoted Exclusively to Dairying and Dairy Stock Interests.

Hoard's Dairyman is the biggest and most practical dairy farm paper published in the United States. Hoard's Dairyman shows a feeling interest and practical knowledge of all things about the farm.

Its editors are daily in the farm atmosphere and confronted with the same questions to solve that are before the farmer. Hoard's Dairyman talks good, hard farm sense about soils and crops and how to best handle them, talks over the good and bad points of cows; their breeding and products. Every conceivable question is considered that will interest the farmer who really wants to make more money and do better with his farm. It is intensely practical.

Sample copies cheerfully sent upon request—better still—subscribe now. The subscription price per year is $1.00. Send your order now. Address—Hoard's Dairyman, Fort Atkinson, Wis.

Powderly.

Mrs. Ethel Myers visited her sister, Mrs. Buell Hope, at Beaver Dam last week.

The many friends of Elder H. C. Ford, of Greenville, were glad to have him in their midst last week. Miss Victoria Clemmons is spending the week in Central City.

Miss Amy M. Longest has returned from a pleasant visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tyler, of St. Louis. Mrs. Tyler was formerly Miss Carrie Longest, of Owensboro.

Mr. Shelle Clemmons attended the ball at Leitchfield Friday night.

Miss Pearl Arnold has returned from a visit to friends at Beaver Dam and Central City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mercer were here from Martwick Sunday.

Bettie Smith, from Ennis, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fleming last week.

Conference for Education in the South.

The next Conference for Education in the South will be held at Nashville, Tenn., April 3, 4 and 5. The railroads have granted a rate of one and one half fare plus fifty cents. Tickets will be on sale from March 30, to April 5 inclusive, and will be good returning to April 20. This will be one of the greatest educational gatherings ever held in this country. Speakers of international reputations will be on the program. A large delegation should attend from Kentucky. T. J. COMES, State supervisor of Rural schools, Frankfort, Ky.

Well, that third fire has occurred, completing the series, and may it be long, or may it be never before a new series is started.

Messrs. L. Z. Kirkpatrick and Robert Jackson left Tuesday for St. Louis, where they will buy a carload of horses for this market.

Mr. Geo. W. Morgan has been confined to his room for some days, suffering from a complication of troubles, but his condition was reported favorable yesterday, and it is hoped he will soon be out again.

Mr. R. E. Wallace was in Evansville on business this week.

Messrs. J. T. Chatham, Leslie Hale and Mat Wickliffe were in Louisville a few days this week.

Miss Mildred Bennett was in Louisville this week.

DON'T SAY YOU'RE OLD

You Only Feel Old

Digestive organs are weak—don't assimilate food as they used to. Other organs act more slowly and less efficiently. Blood is thin and sluggish. Renewal of strength does not equal the wear and tear of your system. That's what makes you feel old. Nothing in the world will tone up and invigorate those weak, back-sliding organs, make rich blood and create strength so quickly as Vinol.

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply the medicinal elements of the good's lives, with the useless non-assimilating oil eliminated, and tone hon added. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not make you stronger, feel younger and give you 25 added interest in life.

Destructive Fire at Depot.

Fire again visited North Greenville Tuesday night, and caused a loss of many thousands of dollars. About 1 o'clock the fire alarm roused the people, and the store of Wallace Bros., near the depot, was practically destroyed before the apparatus could be gotten there.

The store building and its contents were entirely destroyed, as was the home of Mr. Adam Wallace, which was connected with the store. Nothing was saved from the home, either, as both structures were frame, and on account of the nature of the contents, the blaze was intense. Adjoining property, all of frame construction, was endangered, and the livery barn of Mr. John H. Smith was considerably damaged, and but for the splendid work of the fire department it and other buildings would surely have been destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown, as the place was ablaze all over when discovered, and had been on fire some time before anyone was awakened. D. J. Duncan carried the insurance on the Wallace loss, there being $1,500 on the building and $3,100 on the stock, which covers the loss pretty well. Smith is protected by insurance also.

Teddy says he will accept the Republican presidential nomination. The word has its usual meaning, and acceptance is really declaring that he will make every effort to secure the prize.

Tobacco deliveries were started again yesterday, and quite a number of wagons were in town.

We leave it to you to say how good is our furniture polish. We know it is the best we can buy, and sell under a guarantee. If not the best you ever used, return and get your money quick—and pleasantly. ROARK.

Talks to Business Men—No. 2

Calendars, like any other commodity, should be purchased from a house of established reputation and proved stability.

The A. M. Collins Mfg. Co. of Philadelphia which supplies us with Art Advertising Calendars is such a house.

Established since 1857, it has been for years the largest producer of high-grade cardboard in the United States, and its various specialties have given it worldwide fame.

It has earned its reputation by unfaltering honesty and the strictest maintenance of quality in all its products.

Since embarking in the calendar business, it has spared no expense in building up a line which is unexcelled in quality, originality and advertising value by that of any other house.

It is worth your while to know something about the products of this house. Samples for 1913 ready shortly. Don't fail to call and see them.

THE RECORD.

NOTICE

Having bought out Mr. D. U. Poole's interest in the Drug Store, I wish to get the Taylor & Poole accounts closed. Parties indebted to the above firm will please call and settle their accounts.

COST OF FEEDING CHICKENS

Interesting Experiments Made by Oregon Station—Larger Breeds Eat More Than Smaller.

How much does it really cost to feed a laying hen a year? To this question there will be many answers. Some will say one thing, some another, but how about the facts?

In experiments made by the Oregon experiment station, covering several years, in which every ounce of food was weighed, six pounds of Leghorns consumed during the year 544 pounds of wheat, 296 pounds of corn, 263 pounds of oats, 112 pounds of bran and shorts and 123 pounds of skim milk. In addition to some animal food. The cost of the total food per fowl for the year varied in different pens from 61 to 78 cents, and averaged 66 cents.

The wheat was charged at 1 cent a pound, corn at 1 1/2 cents at 1 cent, skin milk at 1 1/2 of a cent and bran and shorts at 3 1/2 of a cent. The total food cost from 5 to 6 cents per fowl. The wheat constituted nearly a half of the total cost. The hens laid an average of 144 eggs per fowl, valued at $1.68, at local prices for eggs. The prices were from 10 cents to 25 cents per dozen. If wheat had been worth, say, 50 cents, and had been charged for at that rate, and bran at 1 cent a pound, the cost per fowl would have been about 15 cents more, or 80 cents instead of 66 cents.

On the basis of prices when the experiment was made, food costing 89 cents when fed to hens produces eggs worth $2.58. This is a pretty good margin of profit in feeding 90-cent wheat. It may be said that the average flock of hens does not lay 144 eggs per fowl. That is true. It is also true that 144 eggs per fowl is not phenomenal. The right kind of hens properly attended should average 150 and well-bred hens considerably more.

Prize-Winning Cockerels.

The average farm flock will not average 125, probably not 100.

In these experiments all the food eaten was paid for at market prices and the cost averaged only 65 cents per hen. The cost would have been only 58 cents if the wheat had cost 90 cents per bushel. The farmer, however, who keeps fifty or a hundred hens, can do better than that, for on the average farm that number of hens may be kept largely on the waste products of by-products of the farm. They will find the animal food in the fields in the shape of bugs, grasshoppers, worms, etc., and there will usually be skim-milk or buttermilk. There need therefore be no cost for animal food, resulting in a saving of 8 to 10 cents per fowl. The closer to grass they eat will have little marketable value. The destruction of grasshoppers in the clover and grain fields and of bugs in the orchard, all where these insects are bad, offset a large part of the annual cost of food for the fowls in better crops.

In experiments with larger breeds the cost of feeding was greater. The cost of feeding Cockerels and Plymouth Rocks averaged $1.15 per fowl and of Wyandottes $1. This extra cost, however, is largely offset when the fowls are marketed, the larger breeds bringing more than the smaller breeds.

Save the Pumpkins.

Every pumpkin should be saved. The ducks and geese eat these readily and they make splendid feed for tidling over the winter months. If you intend raising ducks for profit the coming year remember there is nothing more detrimental to success with these fowls than careless housing right now. Cold or damp quarters will have a tendency to cause them to wait later in the spring to begin laying, which means a poorer chance to raise them profitably. Keep the floor of their quarters deep in straw and securely sheltered from cold winds.

Keep the Hens Scratching.

By keeping the hens busy scratching among the litter, or trying to obtain a portion of their food from outside just within their reach, by furnishing them with a varied diet of grains, vegetables, meat and lime; by giving them sun and dust baths; by disinfecting the houses and keeping them clean, disease may be avoided. Health promoted, vicious habits prevented and an abundance of eggs obtained, which means that poultry thus managed will be a source of pleasure and profit.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, on myself, with good results. The liver pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain pill and get immediate relief in every case."

A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.

Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without gripping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, flatulency, and indigestion as real diseases, but they are symptoms only of a certain specific disease—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular stomach remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone through the stomach and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and kindly vital principle, such lasting accomplishments were never to be had. For stomach trouble, indigestion, flatulency, and all other ailments connected with the stomach, Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the only remedy that will do it. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
